

German-Americana Collection:
Video Collection of Interviews with German Rocket Scientists and Others

Tape Summaries – Moon Project
April 15, 1999, Aron Ranen
Third Wave Media

- Tape 14 – Huntsville Dannenberg, German Rocket Scientist
Conrad Dannenberg was leader in development of rocket propulsion.
Worked with Von Braun in Germany at Pennemunde.
- 16 – Huntsville Ernst Stuhlinger and Conrad Dannenberg, German Rocket Scientists
Ernst Stuhlinger was Von Braun's Chief Scientist at Pennemunde.
Conrad Dannenberg and Stuhlinger discuss rocket history.
- 19 – Von Braun's Secretary – Bonnie Holmes
Wernher Von Braun's secretary for twenty years at Redstone Army Base, Huntsville, Alabama.
- 21 – Bonnie Holmes tape two
Part two of interview including archival photographs.
- 18 – Clancy Handelberg, Frogman
First Person to open Apollo 11 capsule after splashdown.
Interview with this navy diver on board the recovery ship USS Hornet.
- 22 – Gene Cernan
Twelfth man to walk on the moon.
Interview in Houston, Texas with last man to have walked on the moon.
- 22 – Karl Sendler, German Rocket Scientist
Worked with Von Braun in Pennemunde.
Interview in Florida with original developer of Doppler Radar rocket tracking systems.
- 23 – Karl Sendler tape two
Part two of interview
- 10 – Buzz Aldrin
Interview in Los Angeles, California with second man to have walked on the moon.